

FABLE OAK

COLLECTION

A modern day mythology... Fable by Didier playfully poses the question: if the archetypal storybook huntsman found himself in present-day urban Australia, what might his home look like?

Once upon a time FABLE comprised of six essential utilities: a spoon, a bowl, a stool, a chair, a table and storage cabinet. Typical elements represented in traditional folklore and necessary for a romanticised, self-sufficient life in the woods.

Then we playfully asked ourselves: If the huntsman found himself in present-day urban metropolis, what might his home look like now? We believe it would be a celebration of cottage craft; hand-made aesthetic with distinct character, revealed in sophisticated and pared-backed forms.

And thus, the latest iteration of FABLE was born, a range of furniture reinterpreted and designed for present-day utility, its inimitable personality demonstrating the convergence of timber craftsmanship and skilled machinery, with warm oak expertly plied into crisp, clear lines.

The FABLE Oak collection now comprises of chairs, stools, bar chairs and lounge chairs, with optional seat pads, as well as dining and bar tables, open bookshelves, storage cabinets and mirrors.

The collection is crafted from select Oak, with complex manufacturing details disguised within a refined modern aesthetic. This versatile range is the pinnacle of Australian design. Skilfully made by hand and machine, each piece imbued with influences from local culture and craft.

FABLE is one of Didier's most iconic ranges. With every detail carefully considered to achieve a sense of functional charm that is unique to the range. Let your story unfold with FABLE.
